

Make the most of your Scholarship in 2021-2022

The CSC plans to run a blended programme of activities for Scholars this academic year, with virtual activities as well as in-person events taking place when possible.

These activities and events are designed to maximise your opportunities to connect with Scholars across a wide range of study subjects and home countries.

If you have any queries about the below activities, then email engage@cscuk.org.uk and we would be delighted to assist.

1

Join our foundation FutureLearn course

Join our foundation FutureLearn course on 'Understanding Development Impact', introduce yourself and your studies in the comments, encourage others and discuss key development issues with other Scholars.

2

Leaders in Sustainable Development Programme

Look out for emails from the CSC Engagement Team inviting you to sign up for and attend workshops as part of your training in development skills and issues. You will have the chance to gain a certificate at the end of the academic year after sending us your completed Development Training Record.

3

Join a Facebook group

Join the Facebook group for your cohort and your UK Regional Group to meet and get chatting to fellow Scholars, and learn of fun opportunities happening for your region.

4

Attend a regional event

Sign up for and attend a Regional event where you can introduce yourself to your friendly Regional Network Coordinator who can give you more details of your region and relevant activities.

5

Attend a Scholar drop-in session

Attend a Scholar drop-in session with CSC staff: check your emails for the joining details of the next event.

6

Attend a site visit

Attend one of our forthcoming university site visits: These are a chance to meet your Programme Officer and other Scholars at your university.

7

Attend a large CSC event

Attend large CSC events such as Welcome and meet Scholars from across the Commonwealth.

8

Join a Knowledge Hub

Join a Knowledge Hub relevant to your studies to add your expert thoughts and discuss current issues under a specific development theme. Monthly webinars will be held, with opportunities for Q&A and discussions on a particular theme.

For more details of each of these activities, see the Activities page of our website or check our Events calendar
